3. Steering Committee members are asked to take a leadership role in some task force initiatives. This could include summit planning, post summit work group, or county/state budget advocacy. As leaders of the task force, Steering Committee members are also encouraged to take an active role in communicating with elected officials and policy makers about budget and policy matters impacting mental health services, and people with mental illness, such as speaking at a hearing.

4. Steering committee members are asked to support the guiding values of the Task Force, which seek to advance recovery, empowerment, and full inclusion of people with mental illness, as well as an expanded community service system. We value the importance of a strong consumer voice.

5. Be a Supporting Member of the Task Force or work for an agency that is a Supporting Member – or make this commitment for the future. This includes making an annual membership contribution.

Note: The MHTF provides suggested membership fee guidelines for agencies. There is no designated amount for individual membership – it is completely at the discretion of the individual.

Nominee Questions

1. The Nominee meets the requirement of currently participating in the Mental Health Task Force and is willing to meet the expectations for Steering Committee Members:

yes no

2. Provide a brief bio sketch of the nominee.

David has had extensive experience, mostly intersecting with the mental health field during his more than 40 years as a practicing lawyer. For the past three years, he has done work for the State Public Defender's Office, focusing on involuntary mental health commitments and guardianships and protective placements. He has also done extensive work as a Guardian ad Litem for adults and children in guardianship proceedings. For many years, David was an Administrative Law Judge, focusing most claims, throughout the state, involving the Department of Health Services and the Department of Children and Families. These claims had to do with access to state benefits, foster care licensing, facility (like Adult Family Home, Skilled Nursing Facility, and Community Based Residential Facility) licensing. He understands the nuances and requirements for these facilities quite well.

David has served as a Guardian ad Litem and adversary counsel for people with exceptional needs. He does so zealously, but also with compassion and thoughtfulness. His clients trust him to advance their needs. Colleagues and adverse parties respect David's knowledge and thoroughness of his work.

For many years, David represented parents in cases involving Child Protective Services (CHIPS), termination of parental rights (TPR), and youth in the delinquency system. He absolutely understands how mental illness and trauma touch our community in unique ways.

Finally, David worked in municipal government so he understands the public's interest in serving its citizens in safe and effective ways.

More importantly than the previous employment positions David has held, he's been a member of the Milwaukee County community for his entire life. He has extensive professional and personal connections to the community and cares deeply for the residents.

3. Provide a paragraph explaining why the nominee would be a good addition to the Steering Committee. If you are self-nominating, provide a paragraph about why you want to serve and why you would be a good addition. (Write on a separate page if you need more room.)

Since David has been back at the Public Defender's Office, he has taken a role in mentoring young lawyers in legal aspects of various cases and also in how to leverage relationships to help get clients what they want. I have no doubt that David will bring his diverse perspective to the Steering Committee and be able to offer insight on all different aspects of the legal aspects of mental health law and access in Milwaukee County and Wisconsin. David will also be a caring, compassionate addition to the board

1. The Nominee meets the requirement of currently participating in the Mental Health Task Force and is willing to meet the expectations for Steering Committee Members:

yes no

2. Provide a brief bio sketch of the nominee.

I am a Milwaukee resident of 9 years. In those 9 years, I have been a Group Home Manager, Housing First Coordinator, Youth Leadership Coordinator, and vocal advocate for individuals with disabilities. I have grown exhausted witnessing the failings of the MH system in both my professional roles and my personal experience. I need to be involved with changing the MH system.

3. Provide a paragraph explaining why the nominee would be a good addition to the Steering Committee. If you are self-nominating, provide a paragraph about why you want to serve and why you would be a good addition. (Write on a separate page if you need more room.)

My experiences with attempting to navigate mental health services has provided first-hand experience to the myriad of deficiencies of an inaccessible system. The current system demands indefatigable effort, limited choices, and devastatingly long wait times. I need to do my part in taming the wild system that nearly ripped me apart.

I am Founder/ CEO of eClusion, a non-profit dedicated to accessibility of the digital space and video games. Through video games I've personally found community, friends, and support which should be accessible to everyone, not just those with dexterity to hold a non-adaptive controller.

Additionally, I have been witness to the tragic failing of the family court system to address psychological abuse. I spoken with many individuals engaged with the court and the response is a startlingly acceptance of the disregard and neglect to address psychological abuse.

I desire to be selected so I may put work into changing the system of mental health services.

3. Provide a paragraph explaining why the nominee would be a good addition to the Steering Committee. If you are self-nominating, provide a paragraph about why you want to serve and why you would be a good addition. (Write on a separate page if you need more room.)

Throughout my public health career, it was very apparent mental health, the treatment and the prevention of mental illness was and remains an unappreciated public health challenge. Throughout my career I have worked to correct this in various ways to elevate mental health to the same level of attention as physical health. Mental health is the first principle and driver of physical health. I'm a firm believer the conditions that shape good physical health, must be applied as the same that drive good equitable mental health.

Notig the continued burden of mental health is troubling especially in a Post-COVID world. My expertise as a public health strategist may be to support, identify and develop strategies to embedd mental illness in the social and clinical public and private structures and the connectiveness between mental and physical health. Also, as a longtime advocate of social change, there must be discussions and efforts to mitigate harm of mental illness by improving social conditions that shape the burden of mental illness.
